

You're invited to join
The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission in celebrating the Rachel Carson Greenway

with a series of three hikes along the greenway named in honor of the late environmental activist who received world-wide acclaim for her writings about the natural world.

Saturday, March 19, 2005

"The Sense of Wonder"

Hike at 10:00am,

led by M-NCPPC Forest Ecologist / Botanist Carole Bergmann. Begins at Rachel Carson Conservation Park entrance, 22201 Zion Road, Olney, continues about two miles through one of the county's premier conservation areas.

Underground Railroad

History at 10:00am, led by M-NCPPC

Historian Susan Soderberg. Begins at Woodlawn Manor Park, 16501 Norwood Road, Sandy Spring, continues nearly two miles along the Rural Legacy Trail portion of the Rachel Carson Greenway to the Sandy Spring Friends Meeting House. Return transportation to Woodlawn will be available.

Families and Kids Nature

Fun at 10:00am, led by M-NCPPC Park

Naturalist Steve Findley. Begins at 10700 Colesville Road (US 29), at the Burnt Mills Dam, Silver Spring, hiking about one mile roundtrip, north along Northwest Branch Stream Valley Park.

*Hikes will be held, rain or shine.
Please wear sturdy boots and layers of clothing.*

For more information, please call 301-495-4600.

